Step 1: Audit the Data

Evaluation of the provided analysis report for RELIANCE.NS:

- Data Present:

- Comprehensive technical indicators: EMA (20, 50, 200), Bollinger Bands, MACD, RSI, and Supertrend.
- Volatility analysis: Bollinger Band Squeeze and ATR contraction data.
- Relative Strength (RS) analysis against the benchmark (^CNXINFRA).
- Fundamental snapshots (4-year annual and 6-quarter trends).
- 3-year daily price history.

- Data Missing:

- Weekly or Monthly charts to confirm higher-timeframe "anchor" trends.
- Explicit Sector/Industry peer comparison beyond the broad Infra index.
- Volume-at-price (Volume Profile) to identify major support/resistance zones.

- Confidence Level: High. The report provides a multi-factor technical view (Trend + Momentum + Volatility) and aligns it with fundamental growth, which is sufficient for a positional setup.

Step 2: Analyze the Setup

The stock is in a conflicting state between a strong long-term trend and deteriorating short-term momentum.

1. Price Structure & Trend: The stock is in a clear "Strong Uptrend" (Page 6), with a Golden Cross active since May 2025. Price is currently hugging the EMA 20 and staying above the Supertrend line (1515.06).
  2. Relative Strength: While classified as a "Leader," it is labeled a "Weakening Leader" (Page 4). Its RS score of 52.7 suggests it is barely outperforming the benchmark, and the RS ratio has flattened recently.
  3. Momentum Red Flags: This is the primary area of concern. The report identifies a Bearish Divergence on both the MACD (Page 12) and the RSI (Page 16) as of 2025-12-22. Price made a recent high of 1575.40, but momentum indicators failed to follow, suggesting the "buying engine" is losing steam.
  4. Volatility Squeeze: The stock is currently in a Volatility Squeeze with ATR contraction (Page 14). This indicates a significant move is imminent. Given the bearish divergences, the probability of a "false breakout" or a sharp mean-reversion toward the EMA 50 (1516) is elevated.
  5. Fundamentals: Growth is steady but not accelerating (Page 3). Revenue decreased 6.79% QoQ, though net income remains healthy.

Step 3: Formulate the Recommendation

Recommendation: NO (Avoid Entry at Current Levels)

Reasoning: Entering now would be "buying the top" of a weakening move. While the trend is technically "Up," the confluence of Bearish Divergence on multiple oscillators and a Volatility Squeeze suggests a high risk of a price correction or a period of range-bound exhaustion. As a risk-averse positional trader, I require momentum to align with the trend. We should wait for the squeeze to resolve and for momentum to reset.

Conditional Plan (Wait for Breakout):

If the stock clears the recent resistance with a surge in volume, the "Bearish Divergence" will be invalidated, signaling a fresh leg up.

- Condition to Buy: A daily close above the recent swing high and the Upper Bollinger Band on expanded volume.

- Entry Price: INR 1585.00
- Stop Loss: INR 1510.00 (Just below the EMA 50 and Supertrend support)
- Take Profit: INR 1720.00 (Approx. 8.5% upside, targeting the next psychological/extension level)

Trader's Note: Monitor the RSI. If price drops to the EMA 50 (INR 1516) and RSI resets to the 40-45 level without breaking the Supertrend, that would offer a much higher-probability "Buy on Dip" entry than buying the current squeeze.

News & Analyst Targets

As a stock research analyst, I have compiled the latest intelligence on Reliance Industries (RELIANCE) for the week ending December 28, 2025.

The following report summarizes key market developments, brokerage actions, and strategic updates impacting the conglomerate.

1) Latest News for RELIANCE (Dec 22 - Dec 28, 2025)

- US Treasury Waiver on Russian Oil: On December 24-26, news broke that the U.S. Treasury granted Reliance a one-month concession to continue receiving crude oil cargoes from Russian producer Rosneft. This allows operational continuity for the Jamnagar refinery despite tightening global sanctions.
- Tax Penalty Disclosure: On December 24, Reliance disclosed a GST penalty of INR 11.1 million imposed by the tax department. The company has stated it will appeal this order, viewing the impact as non-material to overall operations but a point for regulatory monitoring.
- IPOs on the Horizon for 2026: Market reports this week highlighted Reliance Jio as one of the top mega-IPOs expected in 2026. Analysts are pricing in a massive valuation for the telecom arm, potentially leading a "listing wave" alongside other major firms.
- KG-D6 Arbitration Resolution: Recent updates indicate that the long-standing $247 million dispute with the Indian government over the KG-D6 gas block is nearing its final stage. A definitive resolution is now expected by early 2026, which could clear a major legal overhang.
- Derivative Market Activity: Ahead of the December 30 expiry, heavy put option activity was observed at the INR 1540 strike price, signaling that large institutional players are actively hedging their positions against short-term volatility.

2) Brokerage Upgrades and Downgrades

- Credit Rating Upgrade: S&P Global Ratings recently upgraded Reliance's long-term credit rating to 'A' (stable outlook). This reflects the company's improved earnings stability as consumer businesses (Jio & Retail) now contribute nearly 60% of total cash flow.
- Prabhudas Lilladher: Maintained an 'Accumulate' rating, recently revising their outlook upward following a recovery in the O2C (Oil-to-Chemicals) segment and steady ARPU growth in Jio.
- Jefferies: Reaffirmed a 'Buy' rating, citing "rare alignment of catalysts" across all three major segments (Energy, Telecom, and Retail) heading into 2026.
- MarketsMOJO: Currently maintains a 'Sell' or 'Hold' stance based on technical indicators and short-term "flat" results, though fundamental analysts remain largely bullish.

3) Other News Impacting RELIANCE

- FMCG Expansion: Reliance Consumer Products recently acquired the 'UDHAIYAM' brand (a heritage staples brand in Tamil Nadu) on December 18. This move signifies an aggressive push to take its FMCG business national, directly competing with Tata Consumer and HUL.
- Green Energy Ecosystem: The company reported progress on its Giga Complex in Jamnagar, with the first solar GW+ line now in service. Reliance aims for 10 GW of fully integrated solar manufacturing by 2026, which is increasingly becoming a valuation driver.

- Starlink Partnership Rumors: Speculation regarding a partnership between Reliance Jio and SpaceX (Starlink) has intensified. If finalized, this would give Jio a dominant lead in the satellite broadband segment in India, potentially impacting future ARPU growth.
