This is a detailed analysis of MARICO.NS for a positional equity trade based on the provided technical and fundamental report.

Step 1: Audit the Data

- Data Present: 3-year daily price charts, 4-year long-term and 6-quarter short-term fundamental metrics, Relative Strength (RS) analysis against the ^CNXFMCG index, EMA Crossovers (20, 50, 200), Bollinger Bands, Supertrend, MACD, Volatility Squeeze (BB Width/ATR), and RSI-Volume Divergence analysis.
- Data Missing: Weekly and monthly charts (essential for confirming higher-timeframe structural shifts), industry-wide peer comparison, and delivery volume data.
- Confidence Level: High. The report provides a comprehensive multi-factor view, combining trend, momentum, volatility, and fundamental health.

Step 2: Analyze the Setup

- Price Structure: The stock is in a long-term primary uptrend (currently at INR 743.30). It has spent the last several months consolidating between INR 700 and INR 750. It is currently testing the upper boundary of this range.
- Trend Direction: The EMA analysis (EMA 20 > 50 > 200) confirms a "Strong Uptrend." However, the Supertrend is currently in a "Downtrend (Sell)" status with a resistance level at INR 750.14. This indicates a localized struggle to overcome recent highs.
- Momentum: MACD is bullish and strengthening, and RSI (58.81) has plenty of room to expand before reaching overbought territory.
- Relative Strength: Classified as a "Weakening Leader." While it outperforms the benchmark index on all major timeframes (1M to 1Y), the internal RS score has dropped from recent peaks, suggesting it is losing some of its relative momentum compared to its peers.
- Fundamentals: Long-term growth is stable, but the recent quarter showed a contraction in Net Income (-16.67%) and EPS (-16.92%), which may act as a drag on price if the market perceives a growth slowdown.

Step 3: Formulate the Recommendation

Recommendation: NO (Wait for Confirmation)

Reasoning: The stock is currently hitting a "ceiling." The Supertrend Sell signal and the resistance near INR 750 create a high-risk entry point at current levels. Positional traders should wait for the stock to clear overhead supply to ensure the intermediate-term momentum has resumed.

Conditional Plan (Buy on Breakout): * Condition to Buy: A daily close above the Supertrend resistance level of INR 751 on expanding volume. * Entry Price: INR 752.00 (Once the INR 750-INR 751 resistance zone is cleared). * Stop Loss: INR 714.00 (Placed below the EMA 50 and the recent consolidation floor; approx. 5% risk). * Take Profit: INR 835.00 (Approximately 11% upside, targeting the next psychological and structural expansion level).

Risk Note: Monitor the short-term fundamental performance. If the next quarterly report shows another EPS contraction, the "Weakening Leader" status may transition to a "Laggard," necessitating a tighter trailing stop-loss.

News & Analyst Targets

As a stock research analyst, I have compiled the following report on Marico Ltd. (NSE: MARICO) based on the latest market developments for the week of December 22-28, 2025.

1) Latest News for MARICO (Dec 22-28, 2025)

- Strategic Acquisition Update (Plix): On December 17, 2025, Marico announced an amendment to its agreement with Satiya Nutraceuticals (owner of the brand "PLIX"). The company has extended the timeline to acquire the remaining 40% stake by 12 months, shifting the potential completion to FY28. This move is intended to align with strategic milestones as the brand targets profitability.
- ESG Leadership Recognition: Marico achieved a significant sustainability milestone this week, securing Dual A- ratings in the CDP 2025 assessments for both Climate Change and Water Security. It also maintained its "Leader" status with an ESG rating of 78 from NSE Sustainability Ratings.
- Stock Performance & Technicals: As of the market close on December 26, 2025, Marico's stock rose by 1.17% to reach INR 743.30. Technical analysts noted a "10-day moving average crossover" buy signal, which historically has preceded short-term gains of ~2.3%.

2) Brokerage Upgrades and Downgrades

- UBS (Nov 17, 2025): While maintaining a Neutral rating, UBS raised its price target to INR 830 (from INR 800), noting resilient domestic performance despite the impact of raw material inflation.
- Goldman Sachs & Jefferies (Nov 2025): Both firms reiterated Buy ratings following the Q2 review, highlighting that Marico's volume growth (7%) is significantly outperforming FMCG peers.

3) Other News Impacting MARICO (Indirect)

- Copra MSP Hike: The Union Government recently announced an increase in the Minimum Support Price (MSP) for Copra for the 2026 season (up to INR 445 hike). While higher MSPs can increase input costs for Marico (impacting gross margins), they are generally viewed as a positive driver for rural consumption, where Marico generates a significant portion of its revenue.
- Rural Demand Recovery: Latest industry data for December 2025 indicates that rural demand continues to grow at 2x the rate of urban demand for the third consecutive quarter, benefiting Marico's core "Parachute" and "Nihar" portfolios.
- FMCG Sector Stimulus: Reports of planned GST reforms and recent personal income tax cuts are expected to provide a "second major fiscal stimulus" to the sector, potentially boosting discretionary spending in Marico's premium personal care segment.

Analyst View: Marico remains a preferred pick in the FMCG space due to its successful diversification into Foods and Digital-first brands, which now offset volatility in the core coconut oil business. Investors should monitor the upcoming Q3 FY26 update in January for signs of gross margin recovery following the recent copra price hikes.
